Reds laud 'peace' meeting

PARIS (UPI) — Soviet Communist leader Leonid I. Brezhnev sent a message of support to the Communist-sponsored World Peace Congress on Indochina today, pledging all possible help and support to the peoples of Indochina in their "heroic struggle" against the United States.

At the same time, the official Soviet news agency — Tass — accused the United States of trying to torpedo the Paris peace talks by refusing to attend next Thursday's session in protest against the congress. Delegates from 75 countries, including actress Jane Fonda and Ronald I. Ridgeway, one of those who disclosed the My Lai massacre, were on hand for the congress, along with delegations from the Viet Cong, the Cambodian Khmer Rouge movement, the Pathet Lao in Laos and delegates from Hanoi. William J. Porter, U.S. ambassador to the Vietnam talks, on Thursday postponed indefinitely the next session on the talks on the grounds that the three-day congress being held in suburban Versailles violated the atmosphere of neutrality needed for the talks. Tass said the North Vietnamese delegation leader Ledyar said the congress was groundless nature of the position taken by the American delegation that is again trying to torpedo the work of the conference that is called upon to explore the ways of a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam problem. U.S. spokesman Stephen Ledyar said the congress was belouing the atmosphere of the talks. "By our action we hope to isolate the Nixon administration and to give the assembly a clear understanding of the new aspects of the air war and the economic implications that emerge from it for the United States," he said.

Nixon vows no surrender

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon Thursday warned Hanoi the United States will not negotiate the surrender of South Vietnam and will make no further offers and concessions until the Communists respond to the peace plan he has put "on the table."

Nixon also said that Democratic presidential candidates who have criticized his peace efforts may encourage Hanoi and the Viet Cong to delay any response until after the November elections.

The President made his remarks at a 45-minute news conference in his Oval White House Office, the first he has held in three months. He sought to reassure President Nguyen Van Thieu that the administration would make no agreements with the Communists behind the South Vietnamese leader's back. Nixon also announced that he would leave on his trip to China Feb. 17.

Nixon disclosed the details on Jan. 25 of an eight-point peace plan he had put before negotiators in Paris. He has offered to withdraw all American troops from South Vietnam, but has balked at Hanoi's demands that the United States abandon all support of the Thieu government. Nixon said he did not "question the patriotism" of Democrats who have criticized his peace efforts. But he said he believed candidates for president should review their statements in the light that their words might "encourage him (the Vietnamese Communist) to continue the war."

The President also said that his China trip should not create very great optimism or very great pessimism. He said one week of discussions should not be expected to sweep away 20 years of hostility. But he said his trip was a "watershed" in relations between China and the United States and might start a new chapter that would be featured by communication rather than confrontation.

Declared there would be no tax increases this year, saying that he believed it was impossible for Congress to "get to" the issue of changing the tax structure this year. He said his administration had reached no decision on a proposal for a value-added tax—in effect, a national sales tax.

Whether it was true or false, the suit maintained. Lawyers filed suit in federal district court against the voice on the telephone, and Hughes' intermediaries to the outside world—the Hughes Tool Co., the public relations agency of Carl Byoir and Associates and one of the agency's executives, Richard Hannah.

Maheu, 54, a former World War II spy and once the best shot in the FBI, was the head of the multi-million-dollar Hughes empire of land, hotels, gambling casinos and other property in Nevada.

Ex-Hughes aide sues taped voice

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Robert Maheu, former top Howard Hughes aide now embroiled in a bitter feud with him, sued Hughes' disembodied voice Thursday for $17.5 million, alleging the voice slandered him during a telephone news conference.

The suit quoted a statement made by "the man who, by telephone, identified himself as Howard R. Hughes" as saying Hughes fired Maheu "because he's a no good, dishonest son of a bitch and he stole me blind."

The voice made the accusation knowing it was false, or "with reckless disregard of whether it was true or false," the suit maintained.

Utility boosts frozen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Responding to wide-spread public complaints, the Price Commission Thursday suspended for 30 days all rate increases by privately owned public utilities.

Airwest back

TWIN FALLS — Partial Hughes Airwest jet service will be resumed Feb. 22 in Twin Falls. The announcement was made late Thursday night by Don Cooper, Idaho sales manager, Boise.

Cooper said a schedule is being worked out at the present time for the partial service. He said it will be "increased as soon as possible."

Practically all Airwest flights — including all flights to Idaho — have been grounded since mid-December after mechanics went on strike. In connection with resumption of partial service, it is anticipated that local station employees at the Twin Falls City-County Airport will report to work some days prior to Feb. 22.

On Thursday, Lee Pitt, Airwest official at San Francisco, denied a rumor that a "hitch" in union decisions would mean the flights would not resume.

The ruling affects several hundred communications, electric, gas and pipeline companies which have rate increases pending before the commission. But the suspension does not apply to publicly owned utility companies or rate increases that already were in effect Thursday.

New code repealer vote set

BOISE (UPI) — A bill to repeal Idaho's controversial criminal code comes up for a vote in the house this afternoon and even the code's proponents believe the vote will be close.

Those who want to get rid of the code contend it is vague, costly to enforce and will result in a multitude of lawsuits to establish precedent.

In addition, they dislike the fact the code, by omission, allows sexual behavior between ungarried but consenting adults and lowers the age limit in rape cases.

Should the repealer pass, the legislature will have to re-enact the old criminal code — which this one replaced the first of the year — or at least an amended version of the old one.

Avalanche hits town

TEHRAN (UPI) — An avalanche buried an Iranian mountain village beneath 24 feet of snow, the government reported Thursday. The commune said as many as 4,000 persons may be missing.

Rescue and search parties were sent to the area in the area of Ardekani in central Iran.

Congress talking tax hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Congress that cut taxes by $22 billion since 1969 is now talking about increasing taxes.

President Nixon said at his news conference Thursday that he would ask for no tax increase this year. His economic advisers cringe when congressmen even discuss the matter.

They argue that even the prospect of a tax increase is likely to discourage economy in Congress and to dampen the spending spree the White House wants the American public to embark upon. It pins its hopes for an economic recovery this year on a free-spending public that will create demand for goods and services, cutting into unemployment while wage price controls curb inflation.

Rep. Martha W. Griffiths, D-Mich., told Treasury Secretary John B. Connally Jr. that no candidate for the presidency can run an honest campaign this fall without telling the American people that they're due for a large increase in taxes.

Not so, said Connally. A tax increase is "not inevitable."

STEPPING FROM auto, U.S. chief negotiator William Porter arrives for 14th session of talks. Porter told Communists U.S. won't agree to date for next meeting until it assesses results of anti-American peace conference opening today. At right is U.S. delegation spokesman Stephen Ledyar. (UPI)

US refuses to palaver

PARIS (UPI) — The United States refused Thursday to set a date for the next session of the Paris peace talks in protest against a French-authorized conference called by leaving groups for this weekend to denounce U.S. policies.

Stimulant quota cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced Thursday the 1972 production quota for the widely abused stimulant drugs amphetamine and methamphetamine will be cut by about 80 per cent.

Manufacturers of the drugs had produced 9,356 kilograms of amphetamine and 4,926 kilograms of methamphetamine in 1971. Producers wanted 1972 quotas to produce 19,956 kilograms of amphetamine and 8,941 kilograms of methamphetamine.

Miss Idaho target of Gem kidnap plot

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — A complaint that turned up in the run of court business has led to disclosure of a plot to kidnap Karen Hard, 1971 runnerup in the Miss America pageant.

A suspect has been arrested and sent to a state hospital.

"He said he was going to come up on stage with a gun at my head and shoot me off and if anyone tried anything he'd blow my brains out," Miss Hard told UPI today in a telephone interview from Weber State College at Ogden, Utah, where she was to address a luncheon.

The Boise State good said she had received four letters before the Dec. 29 appearance at a money-raising function for the Idaho Falls School District. Two of them were friendly, two threatening. One concluded with sentimental poetry, she said.

Police, who had been alerted the night before, were posted throughout the auditorium as she prepared for her appearance to perform Christmas carols on the organ.

"I was so scared to go up there with some weirdo out in the audience, I was playing 'Sleigh Ride' faster than I ever have in my life," Bonneville County Prosecuting Atty. Thomas C. Whyte said the 1971 Miss Idaho was told in the letters that she would be kidnapped at a public gathering by a man carrying a .44-caliber pistol. A suspect was arrested a few days later and the case filed under a "Jane Doe" complaint. It wasn't until Thursday that Miss Hard's name came up in court.

Whyte said the decision to keep her name secret was a "value judgment."

JEROME — Hilding A. Streed, 81, Jerome, died Thursday in a Twin Falls hospital after a brief illness. He was born Aug. 1, 1890, in Batavia, Ill. He served with the U. S. Army during World War I and saw service in France. Following his discharge from the army he lived in Canada and Montana before moving to Idaho.

He married Stella Evans in August of 1921 in Twin Falls. Mr. Streed had been employed by the telephone company as manager in Oakley, Burley and Jerome.

He was an active member and past master of Jerome Lodge No. 61, AF and AM. He also was a member of the Jerome Rotary Club and Jerome Chamber of Commerce.

He is survived by his wife, Jerome, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at Hove Funeral Chapel with Rev. John N. Garbrandt and Jerome Lodge No. 61, AF and AM, officiating. Burial will be in the Jerome Cemetery.

Friends may call at the chapel Saturday night, Sunday and Monday until 11 a.m. Memorials may be made to the Heart Fund.

TWIN FALLS — Neal Pastoor, 56, Twin Falls, died Wednesday in an automobile accident in Minidoka County. He was born March 7, 1915, in Amsterdam, Twin Falls County. He was a veteran of World War II, having served with the U.S. Army in the South Pacific.

Mr. Pastoor was a member of the Lutheran Church. He was married to Gertrude VanderSlick on Oct. 2, 1942. They were later divorced.

He married Ada Elizabeth Staple at Jerome, on May 17, 1968.

Surviving besides his widow are his father, Edward Neal Pastoor, a stepson, Billy Staple, and two brothers, John Pastoor and Steve Pastoor, all Twin Falls; two sisters, Mrs. Charles Tina Ross, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Ralph (Janet) Plank, Royal City, Wash.

He was preceded in death by his mother, a son and an infant daughter.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Saturday at White Mortuary Chapel by Rev. Eugene Tjarks. Final rites will be at Sunset Memorial Park. Friends may call this evening and Saturday morning at White Mortuary.

TWIN FALLS — Marjorie Glandon Scarff, 61, Monrovia, Calif., former Twin Falls resident, died Thursday morning at the City of Hope Hospital, Monrovia, of a lingering illness.

She is survived by two daughters, one son and five grandchildren, all Monrovia; a sister, Mrs. R. E. Davis, and a brother, Bruce Glandon, both Twin Falls.

She was preceded in death by her parents, pioneer residents of Twin Falls, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Glandon.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Monrovia.

Legislation introduced

BOISE (UPI) — The senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee introduced legislation Thursday to make in-hospital staff committee records confidential and not admissible in evidence.

Proponents of the measure said such confidentiality would allow the investigative committees to go into greater detail in staff investigations.

Market talks wanted

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The United States and the European Common Market called today for international talks in 1973 aimed at liberalizing world trade and improving trading rules.

Announced simultaneously in Brussels and Washington, it followed closely the joint declaration made Wednesday by the United States and Japan.

Market officials said the declaration called for a new "Kennedy Round" similar to the talks in 1967 that led to 35 per barriers.

The joint U.S.-Common Market declaration was drawn up in talks between William D. Eberle, trade negotiator, and the market's executive commission last week.

The United States and the community undertake to initiate and actively support multilateral and comprehensive negotiations in the framework of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) beginning in 1973, the announcement said.

It said the aim was "the expansion and ever greater liberalization of world trade and improvement in the standard of living of the people of the world."

The joint declaration was accompanied by a community statement detailing the short-term trade concessions it offers the United States in return for devaluation of the U.S. dollar.

The community agreed to increase its by 1.5 million tons over the 2.4 million tons originally planned for 1973.

To consult with the United States on the community's plans for tax harmonization on tobacco.

Noble Redman

It is difficult to believe that a $9-million suit has really been filed against the Cleveland Indians baseball team...

(Incidentally, $9-million is "umpteen" dollars in anybody's vocabulary...

But the suit is real enough, and it reads like something that might have been brought against a defendant at the Nuremberg trials.

"Wahoo," says the plaintiff, the Cleveland American Indian Center, is not an Indian word but "is a slander upon all Indian languages and subjects them (sic) to public ridicule."

"No other nationality, group or race would be expected to tolerate such a caricature of themselves. Only the American Indian, whom this country has raped, robbed, ruined and murdered, can be so depicted as a big-toothed, pointed-head, grinning halfwit while we Indians are expected to endure such a racial slur."

Furthermore, the center claims, the symbol ridicules the political and social system of the Indian nations as well as promoting tribalism and denying the Indians their right to self-determination.

Such a heavy burden for such a little guy to carry. The "racism" behind Chief Wahoo will be news to millions of people who have followed the baseball Indians over the years and who no more associate their symbol with real Indians than they believe that Englishmen are short, pot-bellied, run around in knee breeches and wear a Union Jack for a vest.

It's even possible that just the opposite is true — that Chief Wahoo inspires affection for real Indians. Nevertheless, the suit is genuine and is part of a national campaign to change the stereotype of the American Indian.

Similar actions are said to be under consideration against the Atlanta Braves, Washington Redskins and California Warriors. It's true that real Indians were not literally redskinned, nor were they "Wahoos." But are their descendants suggesting that they weren't brave warriors?

There are two main schools. The larger, Soto, holds that the enlightenment of inner understanding can be attained, gradually. The Rinzai sect believes that it comes in a flash of insight, after grueling hours of meditation — frequently accompanied by physical blows and shouts.

A "strange" experience but good, said a participant at a weekend Rinzai session for businessmen. "You reach your limit, yet can't make a sound. You yearn for the beating which pulls you up straight again."

Judging by that, President Nixon sounds like a Rinzai practitioner from way back. Japanese businessmen are reportedly stunned by President Nixon's new economic policy. But they can always turn to Zen Buddhism to cushion the impact.

Many leaders in Japanese industry favor Zen training to infuse the virtues of enthusiasm, discipline and loyalty in the new breed of "economic samurai," says the National Geographic Society.

Large firms such as Matsushita Electric Co. offer to send their employees to temples for long weekends of training. The volunteers receive instruction, clean the temple grounds and purge their minds by sitting in meditation.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If President Nixon gets the U.S. "Vietnam forces down to 50,000 by July 1, the added defense spending directly attributable to the war will then be running at a pace of around $3.5 billion a year.

Today it is in the range of $3.5 billion annually. By May 1, the date by which the President has promised to reduce our Vietnam troop total to 60,000, the annual cost should be averaging out at roughly $4 billion.

Mr. Nixon has not, of course, made any specific pullout pledge beyond May. But he has indicated further withdrawals would follow. The figure of 50,000 is a reasonable July target, since that level is widely considered the highest at which a "residual force" might be maintained in Vietnam.

Conceivably the President may decide to shave the total another 5,000 to 10,000 men by late summer or fall. That would still leave a force of 40,000, but would cut the yearly cost of strictly Vietnam war operations to approximately $3 billion.

The able defense cost analysts at Brookings Institution make estimates and judgments like these on the basis of the added costs — what they call incremental costs — of the war. The figures do not include spending for the operation and supply of ground, air and sea units which would have to be maintained even if the Vietnam war ended tomorrow. In other words, the calculations do not label as "Vietnam war spending" any outlays which are a part of this country's so-called base-line defense structure.

Obviously, and not surprisingly, the present direct cost of the war is far, far cry from the peak levels of 1968 and 1969. It then ranged from $21 billion to $23 billion yearly. To get the commonly heard top figure of $30 billion annually you must add to these totals some "base-line military expenditures" — in instances where they were allocated to Vietnam activities.

What is the point of laying out these war figures right now? Fundamentally, to put our Vietnam efforts in an up-to-date cost perspective at a time when the intensifying presidential campaign of 1972 will be putting a bright spotlight on the war again.

In 1971, most prominent Democratic presidential prospects were saying reluctantly that Vietnam had dropped way off as an issue. Generally, they don't think that way any more. Their polls show it still is a big concern, and they're going to talk about it endlessly.

Unhappily for the quality of the campaign debate, however, some partisan argument substantially overstates the present cost of the war (exaggeration has been fairly common at earlier stages, too). In recent times I have heard today's annual Vietnam war outlays set at levels from $12 billion to $20 billion. With our force there dropping steadily toward a mere tenth of what it was in mid-1969, such calculations are patently absurd.

Such overstatement is particularly indefensible when it comes, as it sometimes does, from critics who make much of the need for "truth in government."

There are critics, of course who believe that "if the cause is good, anything goes." Hey, isn't that the way the guys in the administration argue?

It Beats All

Japanese businessmen are reportedly stunned by President Nixon's new economic policy. But they can always turn to Zen Buddhism to cushion the impact.

The Closer Link

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A letter, just arrived from one of the most perceptive and politically influential editors in Japan, gives quite a different picture of U.S.-Japanese relations than the gloomy outlook so often painted in recent months.

"Japan needs the United States and the United States, too, needs Japan," he says. "If anything, Japan-U.S. cooperation becomes all the more important in this new era."

"But no longer can the United States afford to approach Japan as a war-defeated ward. No longer can Japan be permitted the luxury of complacency."

"As the two countries now are collaborative competitors, frictions or tensions will naturally arise if nothing is done to prevent them. This ought to be recognized. . . . Short of an all-out effort on the part of both of us for an even closer mutual understanding which we need, the relationship between the two countries may face further crisis."

"If we are to have this better understanding," my friend writes, "Japan must show restraint so as not to flood the U.S. market, as in textiles. On the U.S. side, he wants an end to the thinking 'professed by some important American businessmen' that Japan has to be 'clubbed on its head to get her to do anything.'"

"He thinks we have now passed through the worst of our recent 'restless and nerve-racking period.' Through the agreement returning Okinawa to Japan, U.S.-Japanese cooperation in the United Nations on admitting mainland China and fighting the expulsion of Formosa China, the agreement limiting Japanese textile exports to the United States and the summit meeting between President Nixon and Premier Sato at San Clement, he says, 'the atmosphere of mistrust between the two nations vanished' and tension has been relaxed by one measure."

The crisis that loomed between Japan and the United States last year, my friend believes, was caused by gaps in communication. The largest of the gap was the one between Prime Minister Sato and President Nixon.

He says the problem was not a formal conference as usually features no matter how many people draw from the Egyptian Sinai.

how often repeated. Although I have participated in a number of government-sponsored economic missions to your country and thus have met many people, I have now come to believe that what we need is more direct, person-to-person conversations rather than such formalized contacts."

Only in this way, he believes, can our efforts "be really meaningful in . . . squarely dealing with some of the most fundamental issues between Japan and the United States, including . . . a new international round of trade negotiations aimed at rebuilding the free-trade system, and . . . a fundamental renovation of the international monetary system."

"I submit that . . . we need more and deeper exchanges of peoples of all strata. . . . I see a need for aggressively promoting exchanges of scholars, especially economists . . . and of journalists."

"We should also benefit by expanded (informal, frank) exchanges of views through various . . . intergovernmental channels . . . interparliamentary meetings . . . and more personal contact between private businessmen."

The Triumph

WASHINGTON — Hidden behind the facade of successful talks between the U.S. and Israel to establish ground rules for indirect Israeli-Egyptian negotiations on opening the Suez Canal is the fact that Israel has now achieved a momentous diplomatic triumph over three potent foes: the U.S. State Department, the Soviet Union, and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

Playing for extremely high stakes with extreme boldness, Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir's most conspicuous success has now throttled down the dominant role of Secretary of State William P. Rogers. The important action on the Middle East, so long the special preserve of the State Department in the Nixon administration, has now moved into the White House, where Israel has always had a special political relationship.

But the other two Israeli victims — Sadat and Moscow — are scarcely less imposing. In short, by thwarting three years of all-out effort by Rogers and his State Department aides to compel Israel to withdraw from Arab lands captured in the 1967 war, Mrs. Meir has gravely disrupted relations between Cairo and Moscow. Both are likely to get from Russia no very much, perhaps only Soviet communication. The largest of the gap was the one between Prime Minister Sato and President Nixon.

He says the problem was not a formal conference as usually features no matter how many people draw from the Egyptian Sinai.

peninsula. Israeli withdrawal is regarded by Rogers as the essential first step toward a durable peace in the embattled Middle East.

"Accordingly, Sadat built his early prestige, as Egypt's new ruler by agreeing each step of the way to Rogers' unfolding peace plan in a plan called in Israel as tailored to Cairo's measurements."

In accepting the Rogers plan, Sadat repeatedly proclaimed his willingness to drastically reduce Soviet influence and arms in Egypt when the plan took effect. His pro-U.S. signals began to antagonize the Soviet Union months ago. As a result, Moscow no longer regards Sadat as a reliable ally, in the opinion of Mideast experts here.

Sadat's current visit in Moscow underscores this estrangement. Confronted not only by the failure of the Rogers peace plan but also by a new, long-range U.S.-Israeli arms agreement (help for Israel's own weapons industries and new deliveries of the F-4 Phantom), Sadat's trip to Moscow came against a backdrop of growing trouble at home.

Yet the most that Sadat is likely to get from Russia is no very much, perhaps only Soviet communication. The largest of the gap was the one between Prime Minister Sato and President Nixon.

He says the problem was not a formal conference as usually features no matter how many people draw from the Egyptian Sinai.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Blood Pressure

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Why do slimmer people usually have low blood pressure? What will help bring the pressure up? And what does 144-94 mean? Is this normal? What is normal? — R. I.

I don't think it's true that slimmer people "usually" have low blood pressure. Rather, these people are more likely to have high blood pressure. It takes more pressure to force circulation through their bigger bodies. The overweight can have other effects, too.

If a person keeps high blood pressure in the lower ranges, be glad of it. Seldom is there any point in trying to raise it.

Three numbers — 144-94 or 144 over 94 — indicate the range of pressure. Your blood pressure isn't constant. It fluctuates between pressure at the moment the heart is pumping and a lower pressure that exists between heart beats. The figure you quote shows a pressure that would raise a column of mercury to 144 millimeters when your heart is having a beat and only to 94 between beats.

A reading of 140-90 is generally regarded as the upper limit for a mature adult. Children and young people, when healthy, have lower pressures.

Thus your 144-94 is a bit above what would be preferable for an adult, not much, but it would be wise to try to bring it down a little. If you can reduce it substantially, that's fine.

If you want to know more about why and how blood pressure varies, you may be interested in my new booklet, "Controlling Your Blood Pressure (Hypertension)," which I've just completed. It took longer to write than I had anticipated, because there were so many questions that I felt should be answered in the booklet — everything from how pressure is measured, to the effect of diet, medication and even surgery. What's normal pressure, and what damage does excessive pressure do? If you'd like a copy, send 25 cents in coin and a log, self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of the Times-News.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My son is 7 and weighs 122 pounds. I have taken him to several pediatricians and each doctor told me to cut down on his starchy food, but he is just a healthy child and I am not satisfied with those answers. What do you think causes him to be fat, and would you send me a copy of a diet for him? — V. C. M.

What do I think makes him fat? Probably too much starchy (fat or sweet) food, and if you won't believe what you've been told by several pediatricians, I don't know why you should expect me to come up with some fancy excuse for his overweight. He eats too much. This problem in childhood can persist into adulthood with a continuous weight problem.

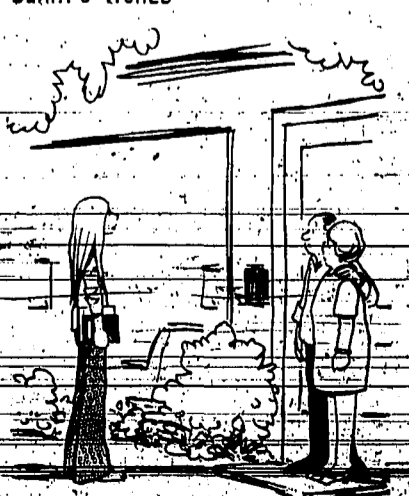

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A friend of mine had cirrhosis of the liver, and after proper diet and medication, he'd reached normal stage.

Would it ever be possible for this person to have an occasional drink, or would it be harmful? — M. M. M.

I must risk sounding like an old killy today, but I will have to advise your friend to avoid that drink. A return to normal life after an attack of cirrhosis of the liver was a 50-50 proposition to begin with. Unless he (or she) wants to buck those odds again with a recurrence, then alcohol should be removed from the picture.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I had a hysterectomy. My womb was removed but my tubes and ovaries were not. Will I still get pregnant in my tubes? — Mrs. J. E. No

BERRY'S WORLD

MR. SPECTATOR

Valentine Day

Valentine Day, traditionally, is the time the world stops for a moment to pay its respects to romance. Of all the holidays, only the lovely 14th of February stands for love.

This is not so far out of balance, really, for if any force in the world needs no special promotion, it is romantic love. Love has existed ever since man, and there are no signs of abatement.

Fully half the world's attention, and eight-tenths of its advertising are devoted to the proposition that everyone deserves a little romance out of life. Romance, directly or obliquely, affects everyone every day.

The only danger is that, because of the world-population explosion, the bureaucrats may decide to take a hand. They might abolish Valentine Day, downgrade romance and end up with an order requiring prospective parents to fill out a half-dozen long government forms in triplicate.

Perhaps it will come to that. There are many things government cannot do, but none has been found which government is unwilling to try.

Welfare aid up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — To the states paying the rest of the welfare costs, the government has decided to advance the states about $1 billion in aid funds that could return thousands of persons to the welfare rolls this year.

Currently, the states draw about $1 billion a month from the federal government for its share of aid to the aged, blind, disabled and dependent children. This amounts to about $2 percent of the total costs, with some months entirely or paying back the full amount at some point in the future.

This is the first time the government has authorized advance payments, but John D. Twinn, social rehabilitation administrator for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said the advances did not mean a return to former budget permissiveness.

"It has strings attached," he said. "The money is conditional on the states coming current again within the fiscal year."

Face lifted

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin has had a face lifting operation, resulting in two black eyes which the senator has refused to discuss with colleagues or reporters, it was reported here Thursday.

The New York Daily News said the Wisconsin Democrat, a well-known health buff, underwent the operation to remove sagging skin under his eyes.

The result was two black eyes.

The News went on to say: "There's no doubt that the balding Proxmire is somewhat vain about his appearance. He dyed his fringe of gray hair brown and has had his age deleted from his official biography in the Congressional Directory."

Arms freeze proposed

By United Press International

LAUDERDALE, Fla., where he is campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington proposed Thursday a mutual freeze by the United States, the Soviet Union and China on military aid to North and South Vietnam.

Jackson said the President should tell Peking and Moscow that we will end all military supplies for the Saigon regime in return for an end to Chinese and Soviet military aid to North Vietnam.

At a news conference in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where he is campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination, Jackson said the Soviets provide North Vietnam's heavy weapons, aircraft and most kinds of ammunition, while China sends small arms and troops to serve as instructors and road-builders.

"An agreement among the big powers for a mutual termination of military assistance and hardware to the parties directly involved could calm down the fighting on both sides and speed the end of the U.S. role in the Vietnam conflict," Jackson said.

Former Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., charged meanwhile that President Nixon's Vietnam peace plan won't work because he refused to withdraw support for the Thieu regime in Saigon and "take a chance" on a new South Vietnamese government.

FTC begins regular advertising check

SEATTLE (UPI) — The regional office of the Federal Trade Commission reported Thursday it has begun a systematic and regular program of monitoring advertising placed in major newspapers of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Alaska.

William C. Eriksen, regional director, said the program was started this week. It is designed to detect false and deceptive advertising and violations of the Truth in Lending Act.

Eriksen said a program to monitor radio and television advertising in Washington state will be started in the spring, probably in May.

He said monitoring in the region in the past had been mostly on a "spot" basis, primarily in response to complaints.

He said the new program is more extensive. He said advertisers found to have engaged in false or deceptive advertising or violations of the Truth in Lending Law may be subject to a complaint and order to cease and desist.

"Additionally, advertisers who willfully and knowingly fail to disclose information required by the Truth in Lending Law may be criminally prosecuted and fined up to $5,000 and sentenced to a year in prison, or both," he said.

He said the newspaper advertising monitoring program in the region was employing about 20 persons to read major newspapers on a daily basis.

New legislation asked on land classification

TWIN FALLS — men-the need for walking through each field of each farm in the county annually. If the state would allow the SCS soil tests, many of which are already available, to serve as a basis of land use and tax value, counties would be saved considerable expense. Leonard said it is time and money consuming to walk each field for assessment purposes to determine crop production and land use.

Commissioners of Twin Falls County have asked legislators to consider new legislation on land classification for tax purposes.

Merl E. Leonard, Filer, said county officials conferred with Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, to ask if something could be done legislatively to allow use of Soil Conservation Service land studies for permanent records in tax assessment programs. This, Leonard said, would save the assessor's field

Ski report good

TWIN FALLS — Fair weather skiers are expected to join the more enthusiastic skiers on the slopes this weekend.

All reports report excellent ski conditions. Weather is clear and sunny.

Some reports show depths ranging from seven feet up with no new snow and packed runs. The road has been widened and is good but snow tires and chains are required.

Soldier Mountain lists 56 inches of snow at the top of runs and 48 at the lodge with no new snow. Snow tires or chains are required but the road is plowed.

Sun Valley lists 27 inches on the Valley floor but 60 inches at the top of Baldy ski runs. There is no new snow, roads are dry with a few icy spots. All bowls and runs are open.

Magic Mountain lists only a trace of snow this week with depths of 80 to 100 inches. The road has been widened but snow tires are recommended. Buses leave Saturday and Sunday from Lynwood at 9 a.m.

Rotarun has 18 inches of packed base. Roads are dry and clear. Skiing continues on Saturday and Sunday with night skiing Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4 to 10 p.m.

Forest service reports snowmobiling is excellent in the Ketchum, Fairfield and South Hills areas and good in Halley with snow cover becoming shallow there.

Sweetheart Ball set

TF budget meet slated

TWIN FALLS — County commissioners said today they expect a large number of taxpayers to meet on Monday to discuss the 1972 county budget during public hearing sessions.

The commission will vote on the proposed $3.8 million budget following public hearings on Monday. William L. (Bill) Chancey, commission chairman, said Monday will be held open meetings with taxpayers. If necessary, the hearings will continue into Tuesday.

Commissioners have met with several service and civic groups during the past two weeks to discuss budget proposals.

In a meeting in Buhl Thursday with the Rotary Club, members questioned the commissioners about various parts of the budget and plans for county programs in 1972. Solid waste, for which the county has budgeted $101,000; recreation $42,375; the hospital budget of $3.8 million and the public health budget were discussed.

Commissioners explained the hospital budget includes only about $175,000 from tax revenue. The remainder comes from patient fees and other hospital income.

Recreation funds budgeted for 1972 include a large percentage of matching federal money for park development and solid waste is still in question, commissioners said.

Chancey invited interested taxpayers to meet with the commissioners individually or in groups beginning at 11 a.m. Monday.

Sales tax killed

Age upped

School plans opposed

Friday, February 11, 1972 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 9

BOISE (UPI) — Shying away from tax increases, the House Local Government Committee voted Thursday against introduction of a proposal to allow cities and counties to impose sales taxes.

"I just feel this is another tax no matter how you flavor it," said Rep. Earl Greenawald, R-Jerome. "On the one hand we're holding taxes down at the state level and on the other hand, telling the citizens we're going to raise them at the local level. I can't vote for more taxes. I think the time has come to pull in our belts. I think we're going to have to talk about efficiency and economy rather than ways to raise taxes."

Spokesmen for the Association of Idaho Cities, Boise City and Ada County appeared before the committee on behalf of two alternative proposals for constitutional amendments on city and county taxation.

At present cities and counties have power to levy only property taxes to supplement money they receive from liquor profits, the inventory tax phase out, regulatory fees and other sources.

One constitutional proposal would allow the legislature to authorize cities and counties to levy certain excise taxes to assist their finances. The other would allow the cities and counties to impose excise taxes providing a majority of the people approve in an election.

BOISE (UPI) — A Senate Transportation Subcommittee recommended Thursday raising the driver age in Idaho from 14 to 18 years, and increasing fees to support driver training programs.

The three member committee recommended setting the state's support at between $40 and $80, rather than the current $35, increasing the driver license fee $1, and increasing the instruction fee from $4 to $10.

Sen. Reed Budge, R-Soda Springs, committee chairman, said it would probably take two bills to implement the recommendations, one to change the age limit and the other to set the fees.

BOISE (UPI) — It appeared Thursday night that a bill proposed by the public school legislative task force for school district reorganization may see a lot of opposition in the future.

An overflow crowd of 150 persons attended a hearing on the measure before the Joint House and Senate Education Committees, Dr. Roy Truby, a consultant to the task force from the State Department of Education, explained the bill.

Task Force Chairman Byron Johnson, Boise, reading a statement from district reorganization subcommittee Chairman Robert Montgomery, Boise, said, "There is no greater problem facing education today than the problem of school district reorganization and that until this is accomplished, the main problems will be unresolved."

The first witness to testify on the bill was the president of the Idaho Teachers Association, Zane Harrison, Fairfield, who said he had been involved in early planning for reorganization and was very interested in awaiting the results of previous studies made.

Harrison said, "When recommendations were released, he felt they were too general and not specific enough as far as county district reorganization."

He said the study spoke only on a state level but was not explicit on a local level.

Gem solons tackle education budget

Mexican-Americans support alien bill

BOISE (UPI) — The Joint Finance Appropriations Committee will tackle the hefty public education budget today, a change from its planned course which may give direction of the house revenue and tax committee.

In separate meetings but at just about the same time Thursday the joint committee decided to move into the "bigger budget" of education, health and welfare and the revenue and taxation committee on a voice vote refused to take action on Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' tax proposals.

The reasoning was about the same in both instances: Revenue and taxation must have an indication of what the spending level will be before it decides what revenue measures to approve or disapprove and finance appropriations needs final action on revenue measures before it can finalize a budget.

Some members of the joint committee, however, indicated they felt a tentative decision on the big spending items will give direction to revenue and taxation work.

Rep. Allan Larsen, R-Blackfoot, chairman of the Revenue and Taxation Committee, said he was "personally pleased" to turn to the major budgets.

"The sooner they get it the clearer we are what we have to work with," he said. "Until then, we just don't know how to proceed."

Larsen argued in committee that it would be premature to bring the governor's proposals to raise over $10 million to the floor until the committee tentatively approved $5,000,000 worth of budget requests, giving to the governor, the state auditor, the state treasurer and the secretary of state exactly what they requested.

The committee trimmed $2,000 from the request of Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy, tentatively approving $38,000 for that office, and held the budget of Attorney General W. Anthony Park pending further information on use of his staff attorneys by other agencies.

Another revenue proposal outlined for several legislative committees was one to help finance the department of agriculture by transferring to agriculture the department of agricultural gasoline tax monies.

The opposition is no larger than a honeybee at birth.

BOISE (UPI) — Mexican-Americans voiced support before the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee Thursday on bills to halt employment of illegal aliens and extend workmen's compensation to farm workers.

Marcelino Gonzalez, Boise, said the committee had "two beautiful bills" which would "solve a lot of problems for a lot of people."

But Sen. John V. Evans, D-Malad, said his main concern was with the measure which would make it a misdemeanor to hire an illegal alien by placing the "burden of proof" on the employer to determine the status of the worker.

Dionicio Pena, Burley, vice chairman of the Idaho Migrant Council, said it would "not be against our dignity" to carry identification to show "lawful status" and Gonzalez said similar proof is required in California and Texas.

Mass gathering bill introduced

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate incorporated cities "may be State Affairs Committee hazardous to the health and introduced a mass gathering safety of those who attend," advertising act Thursday. The measure notes it is recommended by the citizens' policy of the legislature "to fact-finding committee which avoid unnecessary restrictions studied the Fourth of July on mass gatherings and to limit weekend rock festival at its regulation of mass gatherings to those regulations which the legislature has adequately inform the public determined are necessary to that mass gatherings held protect the health and safety of beyond the regulations of those who attend."

Bill tabled

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee tabled Thursday a proposal to elect the state superintendent of public instruction on a non-partisan ballot. It would take a two-thirds vote of committee membership to revive the measure. Sen. John Barker, R-Buhl, chairman of the committee, said members were "very divided," some favoring the bill, some favoring the partisan ballot, and some favoring an appointed superintendent named by an elected State Board of Education.

House OK's coyote bounty despite charges of blood money connection

BOISE (UPI) — The house gave tentative approval 44-22, 62-5 and sent to the senate a measure giving the State Agriculture Department authority to shoot, capture, harass or kill certain wildlife from aircraft to protect land and wildlife. It requires the department, however, to act only under authority of a federal law in this field. The measure was held at the desk. Earlier, the house approved a measure giving the State Agriculture Department authority to shoot, capture, harass or kill certain wildlife from aircraft to protect land and wildlife. It requires the department, however, to act only under authority of a federal law in this field. Rep. Walter Carr, D-Emmett, author and principal sponsor of the coyote bounty bill, said it is needed to reduce the burgeoning coyote population preying on domestic livestock and wild game. Rep. Don Brennan, D-Fuscallo, said bounties on sheep have not worked and will not work in this case. He called it nothing but "blood money" that simply will be extended from one species to another. In addition, Brennan said, evidence, Lincoln said, longue in check.

coyotes are blamed for many deaths they do not perform. To this, Rep. Ray Lincoln, R-Twin Falls, admitted he has seen very few sheep or fawns killed by coyotes but has found the remains of pheasants, sheep and other game or stock partially eaten and with coyote tracks all around. This is circumstantial evidence, Lincoln said, longue in check.

contact three-heart bid. This time the no-trump would be right and three no-trump is a cinch. There is no real play for four hearts but South brought it home.

East put his ace of spades on dummy's queen and let back the queen of diamonds. South ducked and East continued with the jack. South played his ace this time. Then he cashed his club ace.

West played the four spot and South was home with the bacon. He entered dummy with a trump, ruffed the six of spades, entered dummy with a second trump, discarded his last diamond on the king of spades, ruffed dummy's last diamond and led one of his low clubs.

West was stuck in with the king of clubs and had to lead spades for a diamond. South ruffed in dummy and discarded his last club.

South was lucky. He found West with king and one club and each opponent with exactly two trumps but South had given the cards every chance.

Note that he led the ace of clubs as soon as he got in. If he had postponed that play the chances are that West would have dropped the king under the ace.

DEAR ABBY: I wrote to you several months ago about a male relative molesting my 3-year-old girl. Your answer was to confront him with it and get him to a doctor. (We had already confronted him, and of course, he denied everything. "She makes up stories," he said.)

Abbey, how can a 3-year-old make up stories of this kind?

I talked with the police department, and was told you cannot accuse someone of molesting without proof. How do you get proof? When the child was younger, this relative would come over and take her out for "rides" in his car, and when he brought her home, her clothes were a mess, and her diaper pins were upside down. (Abbey, do you know any mothers who put diaper pins in upside down? I don't.)

That, and a dozen other incidents, is still not sufficient proof. Will they take the word of a 3-year-old against that of a grown man who is admired and respected by all? NO! I was made to look like a hysterical mother having hallucinations. Can you now understand why each night I pray for God to take him? Only then will I have peace of mind.

DEAR ABBY: I believe you. And I promise to give you my prompt personal assistance. If you will send me your name and address.

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged woman, just recovering from surgery. I have also had a heart attack and I am not very well. My problem is I am trying to keep from getting the flu, but I have two women friends who always want to kiss me when they greet me. And when I leave, they are in the habit of kissing me goodbye.

I never minded, until now. But there is so much lip around that a person can't be too careful. I would feel foolish asking them not to kiss me for this reason, yet I wish they wouldn't. How can I keep them from kissing me without losing their friendship?

Please print this. I am sure others have the same problem.

DEAR SALT LAKE: When they approach you, gently give them the "straight arm" and say, "Please, no kisses. One of us may have a little bug." (True, one of you may have.)

DEAR ABBY: The idea of exchanging tapes with servicemen who find writing letters tedious was a good one. Your comment that it was a good idea for those who could "afford" it caught my attention.

Friday, February 11, 1972 - Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho. I suggest that both servicemen and their families contact their local U.S.O. Many U.S.O.'s at home and abroad will provide tapes, recorders, and even pay the postage as a service to our men in uniform. U.S.O. SUPPORTER.

DEAR SUPPORTER: And this might be an appropriate time to inform those who may not be aware that the U.S.O. is NOT funded by the government! It is supported entirely by public donations as a United Way or Community Fund agency.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MASON CITY FATHER: There is little point in suddenly telling a 16-year-old son that if he ever gets into any kind of trouble to come to you first. For if the proper relationship has been built over the years, he will. And if it hasn't, the words will be meaningless.

What's your problem? You'd feel better if you got it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 6790, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Ban on smoking gets snuffed out

BOISE (UPI) — House members snuffed out a measure for the general public Thursday to ban smoking at public meetings but Rep. Edward Rice, R-Boise, kept a tiny ember glowing until Friday.

Reps. William Onweiler, R-Boise, and Allan E. Larsen, R-Blackfoot, proposed the ban as both a health and comfort

Higher tuition

BOISE (UPI) — The senate passed by voice vote Thursday a measure seeking higher tuition, fee and book payments for Vietnam veterans going to school.

Sen. Richard S. High, R-Twin Falls, said payments were limited in the 1940's to $500 per month. He said the proposed change would allow payment of up to 75 per cent of the tuition, fee and book costs up to $1,000 with other provisions for guaranteed loans.

Food for less

BONN (UPI) — A West German breadwinner supporting a wife and two children needs to work only 15 hours to supply them with food for a week, seven hours less than required in 1962, the federal Committee for Economic Information

Parents par

BOISE (UPI) — The house of the legislature the approved 94-0 and sent to the senate Thursday legislation to put parents on a par, legally, with their children's other advisers.

Under the proposal, parents would have the right to keep in confidence that which their youngsters tell them except in certain criminal actions or crimes of violence.

Rep. Vernon F. Ravenscroft, D-Tuttle, principal sponsor of the bill, noted that last session, "I submit this is real, good, sound, long overdue legislation," Ravenscroft said.

Controversial market board

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Agricultural Affairs Committee introduced controversial legislation Thursday to create a potato marketing board empowered to purchase surplus potatoes from growers whenever the price paid falls below 90 per cent of parity.

The fund for purchase would be supplied by graduated assessments on crops.

The proposal noted surplus marketing is an "unreasonable and unnecessary waste of the agricultural wealth of this state."

100 strikes

U. S. B-52 bombers and jet fighters made almost 100 strikes across the central region of South Vietnam Thursday, military spokesmen said. The strikes targeted a suspected Communist base area 28 miles south of Da Nang, the major port city of the northern coast. (UPI)

Saigon (UPI)—The U.S. command today reported Viet Cong ambushes against two American convoys wounded one GI. The South Vietnamese said a unit of 10 troops was under siege in the Central Highlands and reported "the situation is critical." The Saigon command said that, on the whole, the level of fighting had fallen from the previous few days, with what the military calls "enemy-initiated incidents" dropping to from the previous day's 41. U.S. spokesmen said one ambush of American trucks occurred on Highway 1 at a point 12 miles southeast of Tuy Hoa air base on the South China Sea coast. An estimated platoon of Viet Cong, firing rocket grenades and machine guns, pinned down the convoy for four hours until U.S. helicopters came to the rescue. One American was wounded and two trucks damaged. Another convoy traveling from the U.S. Phu Bai air base near Hue came under rocket grenade attack on Highway 1, 20 miles northwest of Da Nang. One truck was damaged before American helicopter gunships opened fire and the Communists fled. A U.S. Air Force F4 Phantom fighter-bomber crash from unknown causes while on a mission over the Laotian lower panhandle. Both crewmen were rescued in good condition early today after nearly 14 hours in the jungle. UPI Correspondent Donald A. Davis said in a dispatch from the Central Highlands capital of Pleiku that part of a South Vietnamese regional force militia unit of between 35 and 40 men was under siege in An Bao outpost. One battalion of the North Vietnamese 21st Regiment moving up behind a barrage of 52 rounds of 82mm mortar fire encircled the post, 280 miles northeast of Saigon, he said.

Davis reported that a battalion of South Vietnamese troops of the 41st Infantry Division tried to break through the Communist ring and in the ensuing fighting, 40 North Vietnamese were killed at a cost of 10 South Vietnamese killed and 13 wounded. One civilian was killed and another wounded when four 122mm rockets hit the coastal province capital of Quang Ngai 40 miles north of An Bao.

Crudely drilled holes reportedly served as gun ports. (UPI)

1 of 3 arrested in raid wanted for murder in Ohio

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Police said Thursday one of three men arrested in a raid on a fortress-like command post behind a black "security guard" service was wanted for murder in Ohio.

Police Lt. Glen Deamici identified the suspect as Eugene McCall, 30, who gave his name as "Walter Bell" when he was arrested.

Deamici said McCall was wanted on a federal fugitive warrant in connection with the killing of Joe Louis Moore at Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 17, 1970. Sixteen policemen wearing bulletproof vests broke into the ramshackle building in San Francisco's predominantly black Fillmore district at 1:45 a.m. Thursday.

Those arrested were McCall, 30, Arthur Putney, 46, and Ray Ballard, 32.

Disarm measures

DACCA (UPI)—Bangladesh authorities seeking to disarm the Bihar enclave in Dacca's suburban Mirpur are trying to serve the 200,000 non-Bengali Muslims into submission, reliable sources said Thursday.

The enclave was the scene of heavy fighting about two weeks ago and police and troops have been carrying out searches for weapons and "criminal elements" since.

Thus far, the sources said, the switch in strategy has produced little results. The Biharis may be starving, they said, but very few, if any, were coming forth with guns.

The report came on the eve of the visit to Bangladesh of Vittorio Winspeare Guicciardi, the special U.N. representative for humanitarian affairs. Winspeare was dispatched to Dacca by U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim at the request of Pakistani President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, reportedly to look after the Bihar's welfare.

An International Red Cross food convoy was permitted to enter Mirpur Thursday for the first time since the army cordoned off the area and threw a curfew over it 12 days ago. But the Red Cross brought in only 20 tons of rice and high-protein biscuits, scarcely enough to ease the hunger of the 200,000 Bihar men, women and children.

Baroness

Baroness will testify

NEW YORK (UPI)—Beautiful Danish folk singer Nina van Pallandt arrived here Thursday to tell a grand jury she never saw author Clifford Irving with Howard Hughes in Mexico but she said it was "ridiculous" to think her testimony would hurt Irving's case.

Baroness Van Pallandt arrived with her manager, John Marshall, and his attractive brunette wife, Elizabeth. Marshall said he and the baroness also had made official statements to U.S. postal investigators looking into the possibilities of fraud in regard to the controversial book. He said they had come here to testify voluntarily, not having been served the subpoenas issued here last week.

The baroness, her hair in a bun, was dressed in a beige wool coat, green scarf and knee-length boots. She wore an expensive-looking gold wristwatch and large gold earrings.

The blonde folk-singing baroness left London as the federal investigation of possible mail fraud in connection with the book shifted to Switzerland. Assistant U.S. Attorneys Robert T. Morville and John J. Tighe, Jr., who questioned Irving's Swiss wife Edith before a grand jury here earlier this week, began consultations with authorities in Zurich Thursday morning.

Medics urged to publicize fees

WASHINGTON (UPI).—The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said Thursday it will ask Congress to require doctors and hospitals to make fee schedules available to the public. The American Medical Association (AMA) promptly announced its opposition.

An HEW official said the requirement also would apply to nursing homes and other health service providers. It would take effect after President Nixon's wage-price controls end.

The official said HEW would recommend the regulations to Congress as part of the administration proposed National Health Insurance Partnership Act (NHIPA).

In a statement HEW said: "Under NHIPA standards, health service providers must supply information on charges for community provided services, hours of operation and other patient access matters, administration would propose and the extent to which the provider is licensed, accredited or certified by recognized or official health bodies.

This information would have to be made available before rendering service, except in emergencies or other exceptional circumstances. HEW Secretary Elliot L. Richardson testified before the House Ways and Means Committee Oct. 19 that the physician on the basis of a fee. Physicians usually are chosen on the basis of ability.

The Price Commission has limited doctors to a 2.5 per cent annual increase in fees when justified by cost. The proposal would not extend that requirement.

A person standing 80 feet above sea level can see about 12 miles.

Personnel revision planned

BOISE (UPI).—Legislative Auditor James Defenbach is preparing a major revision of the Idaho Personnel Commission law, according to Sen. Richard S. High, R-Twin Falls.

High, co-chairman of the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee, said the proposal will probably be to expand the number of state employees under the state personnel commission while at the same time striking the requirement wages offered to state employees be comparable to those offered by the federal government or private industry for comparable work.

Instead, High said the state will probably offer the "kind of wage and salary necessary to attract qualified workers. There are other reasons besides salary for coming to Idaho."

Miss Cochran wins first ski gold medal

SAPPORO, Japan (UPI)—Barbara Cochran became the first American woman in 20 years to win a gold medal in Olympic Alpine skiing Friday when she outsped a trio of French stars to capture first place in the women's special slalom ski race.

The victory by the 21-year-old Richmond, Vt., girl was the third U.S. gold medal of the current Games and that was the highest U.S. total in 12 years.

Not since Andrea Meade Lawrence of the U.S. won both the special slalom and the giant slalom in 1952 in Oslo, Norway, had an American girl shown the way to Europe's traditionally powerful contingent of girl skiers.

Miss Cochran was timed in 46.05 for her first run, and 45.19 in the second for a total of 1 minute, 31.24 seconds in defeating France's Danielle Debernard and Florence Steurer.

Earlier, the U.S. suffered a gold medal disappointment when a "sore and aching" Anne Henning was forced to settle for third place in the women's 1,000 meter speed skating won by Germany's Monica Pfug in an Olympic record of 1:31.4.

However, Miss Henning was the first U.S. entrant to win two medals in the Sapporo games. Miss Henning, who won the 500-meter event on Thursday, also bettered the old Olympic mark with a time of 1:31.62 but the Northbrook, Ill., girl admitted she was fatigued from her previous day's activity.

Miss Cochran, surrounded by a board of newsmen and photographers at the finish line, was obviously delighted. "I just feel great, I can't believe it," she said. She said that after she had the best time on this first heat

"I tried not to be nervous, I tried not to think about it."

In her second run she started last amongst the favored top 15 skiers and said "I must admit it was of some advantage, since she already knew who she had to beat."

"I skied very well and the poor weather conditions did not bother me at all."

"It was snowing and there was some fog during the two heats. However, the United States"

No. 1 four-man bobsled team skipped by Jim Hickey of Plattsburgh, N.Y., was eliminated from that event and Hickey suffered a possible fractured rib when the sled overturned on the fifth curve in its first run.

Miss Henning, 18, paid the price Friday for having had to race twice in winning the 500-meters on Thursday.

"I had to skate twice Thursday and I was just tired today," she explained. "When I woke up this morning I felt like I had been run over by a car."

Miss Henning had to race twice Thursday because she was impeded in her first 500-meter run by Sylvia Burka of Canada as they crossed lanes.

In her second attempt, even though she already had clinched first place, she went all out in an attempt to break her own world record.

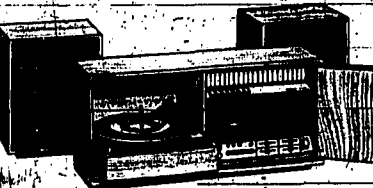

having made the futile record attempt now, she said. "There are no regrets. I was going for the record."

"Today was a bad day," Anne said. "But maybe I couldn't have gone faster even if I felt well. I'm still very pleased with my gold medal from the sprint. They can't take that away."

Asked Friday if she regretted

Jerome, Declo cop mat titles

BUHL. — The Jerome Tigers, with four champions, and the Declo Hornets, with only one, walked off with the Class A and B divisions, respectively, of the district wrestling championship Thursday night.

After a day of upsets and surprises, particularly in the B division, Valley outlasted Raft River and Shoshone for the B runner-up spot while Burley, picking up a lot of points in the wrestle backs, zipped easily into second place in the As.

Jerome, wound up with 130 points while Burley had 117, Buhl 84, Twin Falls 83, Minico 56, Wood River 45, Filer 28 and Gooding six.

In the B division, Declo had 80, Valley 74½, Raft River and Shoshone 72½ each, Wendell 46, Glens Ferry 27½, Kimberly 24 and Oakley 14.

It was not a good day for seeds, as Declo found out. The Hornets piled up a big lead in taking 10 men into the final session. But once there they had a jolt of trouble getting points. They finally iced it when Kidg, their only champion, took the 148-pound class—and he was around, second. Meanwhile, Shoshone hit hardest in the finals, getting five class champions—three of them the Winn Brothers.

Shoshone led with five champions, Valley was second with three, Raft River has two and Declo and Kimberly one each. The fight for second place was red-hot until the 170-pound class where the Vikings' Black defeated top-seeded Osterhout of Declo to push Valley out of reach.

(On the A side, Winnett of Burley kept his tournament streak going, coming out of the unseeded to claim the title. But it wasn't that happy for the rest of the Bobcats due to a lot of unexpected losses Wednesday. The biggest reversal, according to the seeds—came in the 158-pound class where fourth-seeded Tony Williams, the athletic man, mountain, took the prize while top-seeded Mike Sandman, Burley, who had lost only once coming into the tournament, fell to fourth and will not go to state.

Jerome freshman Norm Cochran served up the first part of perhaps a four-year reign by winning the heavyweight crown.

Jerome led with four individual champions while Twin Falls, which was knocked out twice in first seeds, Buhl, Wood River and Burley had two each. Wood River's two champs.

Kriley and Jefferson, marked a first for the Wolverines in district competition. On the other end, it was the first time ever that Minico didn't have a class champion. However, the Spartans entered only two seniors this year—and will be back.

Looking ahead to next week's state tournament, Jerome and Burley will enter eight men each but Burley has four thirds against one for the Tigers. Buhl and Twin Falls had seven; Buhl with four thirds and Twin Falls with two. Filer, Wood River, and Minico each enter two. The problem with third places is they are pitted against champions of other districts in the opening round at state.

In the B division, Shoshone will have six, one third; Declo has seven, one third; Valley has six, one third; and Raft River six, three thirds. Wendell sends three seconds, Glens Ferry a second and two thirds; Kimberly a first and two thirds and Oakley two thirds.

Wildlife Review

By STU MURRELL
Regional Conservation Educator

Idaho Fish and Game Department

"Deer Are Still Dying at Dworshak Dam." This is the title of a recent article I just finished reading and it makes me sad for the big game since I helped with some of the original wildlife studies on this project in 1959-61. The Fish and Game Department and U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife opposed this project when it was proposed by the U.S. Corps of Engineers to congress in the late 1950's because of the adverse effects on big game, steelhead, and the resident trout. Now the project is built, the reservoir is being flooded, and the problems the Fish and Game Department predicted are coming true. The same problems for big game and resident trout can be expected at the Teton Dam Project, which I also spent two years studying in 1961-62.

I think it might be enlightening to look at a brief history of Dworshak Dam, to show what a government boondoggle it is. It was originally proposed in 1953 to protect the city of Portland from flooding. No irrigation was proposed and it involved only a small amount of power production at that time. The Corps of Engineers "Water Resource Development, Columbia River Basin" report of June 1958 shows only 5 per cent of the water flowing by Portland came from the North Fork of the Clearwater River.

certainly a questionable amount of flood problems to request the proposed $158 million of the taxpayer's money for construction of the project at that time. Dworshak actually ended up costing the public about $250 million plus $4.5 million for Dworshak Steelhead Hatchery.

Joint studies by the Idaho Fish and Game Department and U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries showed the people of the U.S. would lose 717,000 square yards of spawning gravel for anadromous and resident fish, completely block the anadromous fish runs up the North Fork, hundreds of miles of tributary streams would lose their juvenile steelhead population (the main fish present for summer trout fishermen), 15,000 acres of big game winter range would be inundated, resulting in an anticipated loss of about half an estimated herd of 3,000 whitetail deer, and a sixth of one of the largest elk herds in Idaho. In addition, it would disrupt traditional migration routes of both these big game animals.

What has been done to soften these blows to the wildlife environment? Dworshak steelhead hatchery was built to raise the fish which normally spawned in the North Fork. Since the first release of downstream smolts occurred last spring, it is too early to know whether this has been successful. Certainly, the trout fisherman has already suffered because of the juvenile steelhead loss in the tributary streams. It is not expected that Dworshak Reservoir will be an attractive and successful fishery because of the annual fluctuation of water levels amounting to 150 feet (some years it may be as much as 255 feet) and the low fertility of the soils in the North Fork. It may have a brief period of fertility of but other reservoirs of this type have shown they rapidly lose this.

The Fish and Game Department asked that 50,000 acres surrounding the upper limits of the reservoir be managed for big game to provide additional food for the displaced deer and elk. This consisted of 38,000 acres of state endowment lands and 12,000 acres of private lands which the Corps of Engineers said they would purchase and turn over to the Department for management. So far little has been done for big game management on these areas and the Corps of Engineers has not purchased the agreed upon lands. Now we have hundreds of deer falling through the ice or being attacked by coyotes which have found the deer vulnerable on the ice. Next year it will be the elk's turn, in addition to the deer, when water levels reach the main wintering areas of these animals. The problems with ice shelves, slush ice, and open water areas will be an annual occurrence because the operation of the reservoir calls for fluctuating water levels for flood control and power production throughout the winter period during the next 100 years. The anticipated life of the project. The low elevation lost in the reservoir site is irreplaceable because it had the reduced snow depths which allowed the animals to get around in severe winters. Even if we were able to develop better food supplies in adjacent areas, if there is 4-5 feet of snow on them it will not do the big game any good, particularly deer with their shorter legs than elk.

What can we expect at Teton Dam? Even though the numbers of wildlife are smaller, an actual count showed 1,100 deer in the canyon and there were probably more. The effect of big game will certainly be more drastic.

Rosburg takes lead for Hope classic

Game tonight

Times-News,
Twin Falls, Idaho 23
Friday, February 11, 1972

PALM SPRINGS, Calif.—Last year, continued his fine play, shooting a second round 70 at La Quinta after an opening 66 at Eldorado and thus had a two-round total of eight-under 136.

Arnold Palmer, four-time winner in 19 previous Hope Classics and the defending champion, added a second round 68 at Eldorado to an opening 66 at Bermuda Dunes and was tied at 137, seven under par, with Deane Beman, who shot a scintillating seven under par 65 at Indian Wells in the second round.

The 45-year-old Rosburg opened the marathon 90-hole tourney with a six-under-par 66 at Indian Wells and got his second round score at the Bermuda Dunes for a 36-hole total of 8-under-par 135.

Jerry Heard, the youngster from Visalia, Calif., who won more than $112,000 on the tour-in the Hope Classic, each pro-nearly $250,000, had an even par 72 in the second round and was at 140 along with Ray Brewer and Leonard Thompson.

Lee Trevino, runnerup to Nicklaus on the money list in 1971, had a 71 in the second round but was far back in the pack at 147, three over par.

Grier Jones, the youngster who won the rich Hawaiian Open last Sunday in a playoff with Bob Murphy, had a sixth round score in that group, a six under 66 at Indian Wells, and was at 141.

Jack Nicklaus, last year's leading money winner with Rosburg has not won a journey since the 1961 Crosby and at one point last year almost quit the tour in disgust with his game.

His second-round card included four birdies and one bogey. Heard's card included three birdies and two bogeys while Beman had eight birds and one bogey and Palmer had five birds and a single bogey.

The Atomic Energy Commission predicts a significant decrease in the next 30 years in the cost of fuel-cycle processing for nuclear power plants.

The Twin Falls Bruins will entertain the Highland Rams and the Southern Idaho Conference leading scorer, Byron In-The-Woods, at 8 p.m. Friday in the Twin Falls gymnasium.

In The Woods, a junior, is averaging 18 points per game and hit 27 when Highland dropped Twin Falls earlier.

Saturday the Bruins will travel to Borah.

Chile stretches for 2,600 miles along South America's western coast.

Angus sale field said tops

PLER — Idaho Angus Association officials said today the 10th annual bull sale here Saturday is one of the strongest offerings of high quality bulls in the sale's history.

The association will offer 100 selected quality Angus bulls from a three state area for auction beginning Saturday noon in the livestock building of the county fairgrounds.

On Friday, bulls will be graded and sold in the order of the grade. Top quality animals will go into the ring first.

Dawson Gaertner, Midvale, association president, and Robert Morley, Eagle, sale committee chairman, said the bulls are from top herds in Idaho, Washington and Oregon. The sale will give cattlemen an opportunity to inspect and compare the animals and purchase those which best fit their range needs at auction.

Judging bulls Friday will be Ormer Schmidt, Wendell, commercial producer, and Ralph Clark, Western States Angus Association, Roseville, Calif.

Thursday night, Idaho Angus

Association members met for their annual business meeting and dinner in the Rogerson Hotel, Friday night; consignors and buyers will join association members for the annual dinner and presentation of the award of the outstanding Angus breeder of Idaho. The awards event will begin at 8 p.m. in the Rogerson Hotel.

Ken Trout, Emmett, will be auctioneer. All consignments will be required to meet a minimum per day weight gain record and all will be between 18 and 30 months of age, Morley said.

"We are looking forward to an outstanding sale again this year," he said. "Because of the increasing demand for black bulls for cross-bred purposes we expect a large number of enthusiastic buyers. Our sale has become the best single source of top quality range bulls in the northwest over the past 10 years."

Heavy north Gem runoff seen

SPOKANE (UPI) — The meteorologist in charge of the local office of the National Weather Service said Thursday spring runoff for inland Empire streams in eastern Washington and

Bob Small said Soil Conservation Service snow measurements around the last of this month indicated snow depths of 100-150 per cent on average in the mountain areas of the Inland Empire.

Small said total runoff for the Kootenai Clark Fork, Flathead, Spokane and Columbia Rivers is estimated at from 115-120 per cent of the 15-year average. He said this estimate assumes near normal temperatures and precipitation conditions for the months of February, March, April and May.

Small said although the situation doesn't sound promising, it doesn't necessarily imply there will be flooding.

He said there is adequate space in the major reservoirs and the major stream can handle the flow if the rate of melt is not erratic.

Small said for the first time in history the residents of the Bonners Ferry area in northern Idaho will be free from a serious flood threat this spring because the runoff will be trapped with the filling of the reservoir behind Libby dam on the Kootenai River upstream from Bonners Ferry.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wall Street's stock-market operators and analysts are inclined to follow the crowd and the crowd "is always ready for a love affair with the bulls," Fraser Management Associates observes. Therefore, a speculative boom in stocks is foreseeable even in conjunction with a dragging, rather than swining, business year.

Too much vitamin A causes cancer in chickens

NEW YORK (UPI)—A cancer virus of fowls was injected into both wing webs of 20 chickens. Daily for three weeks thereafter a 20-per cent solution of vitamin A was applied to the right wing webs.

Then the chickens were killed and dissected. Three of the 20 left wing webs, which had received no vitamin A from the outside, contained cancers.

Ten of the 20 right wing webs, which had been liberally dosed with the vitamin, contained cancers. Furthermore, the right wing cancers were two to three times larger and heavier and generally more highly developed than the left wing cancers.

Drs. A. Pollack and Z. Ben-Sasson who made this experiment at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, could only conclude that a superabundance of vitamin A had made the cells of chickens more susceptible to the intruder of a fowl cancer virus.

Their findings bore directly on the common supposition that vitamins, said to be taken in excessive amounts, because the body eliminates any excess above need. Many people are now taking large amounts of vitamin A daily in the belief it wards off the common cold.

Pollack, Ben-Sasson, and other scientists of a number of countries, have been suspicious of vitamin A. In regard to cancers for some years, and for solid theoretical reasons.

In previous experiments Pollack and his Hebrew University colleagues demonstrated that other cancer-causing compounds cause cancers in the pouches of chickens, but don't when it is absent.

Pollack interpreted the accu-mutating findings as indicating that excessive amounts of vitamin A increase the permeability of cells which would enable any cancer virus or other cancer-causing agent to get into cells more easily.

Like all vitamins, A is essential for health. A deficiency results in cellular atrophy and such symptoms as night blindness. It is adequately supplied in the diet by milk fat and many vegetables. It is abundant in fish livers.

Burley man gets rank of major

BURLEY — Jerry G. Voss, Patrol, has been promoted to the rank of Major with the Burley Squadron of Civil Air Anniversary.

DETROIT (UPI) — The American Motor Vehicle Industry observed its 75th anniversary in 1971. The industry was started in 1896 as the Duryea Motor Wagon Co. which produced 13 vehicles from the same set of plans.

Making the presentation of rank promotion were Col. George W. Falkner, Idaho Wing Commander of all CAP Units in Idaho, and Lt. Col. George Trobaugh, chaplain. Falkner announced that he had just received word that the Idaho Civil Air Patrol ranked 25th in the nation which is up from their rank a year ago. There are 52 wings across the nation, he said.

MAJ. JERRY VOSS

Firm at Declo gets citation

DECLO — The Bonneville Power Administration has commended the Southeast Electric Co. management for efficiency in serving the community.

The commendation came at an annual meeting of the company Tuesday at Declo High School.

Chairman, public utilities specialist, and Dale Brooks, operations and maintenance manager, both from BPA's regional office at Idaho Falls, attended the meeting.

A film about the network of dams on the Columbia River was shown by Locell Northing, BPA's president of the South Side board of directors, reported on expenditures for the past year and discussed goals of the company: Higher voltage, more land in cultivation and wells for irrigation all call for more power, he said.

Music month

JEROME — The North Side Music Club held its monthly meeting Tuesday at the Jerome Civic Memorial Library.

In observance of American Music Month, the program, "Behind the Scenes of an American Singer," was the topic. The studies, performances, teaching and accomplishments of an artist were outlined by Esther F. Eakin.

The North Side Music Club is affiliated with the National Federation of Music Clubs.

2 more get food stamps

TWIN FALLS — Two additional food stamp recipients, Carma and Yvonne, will enter the food stamp program this week under the direction of the area office in Twin Falls.

Stamps will be issued from the post offices in those counties where the stamps are sold and will be redeemed by retailers at the banks.

Other counties administered from the Twin Falls field office include Twin Falls, Cassia, Gooding, Jerome, Minidoka, Blaine, Lemhi and Lincoln.

Accompanied by Robert M. Terrell, manager of the district office at Portland, Webb met with Carma and Yvonne Thursday and today to complete details of the program.

Board members

WILLIAM DARRINGTON, left, president of the Burley Federal Land Bank Association board of directors, talks with Frank Beck who was re-elected to the board for a three-year term on Wednesday. Beck has been on the board for 20 years.

Federal land bank meets at Burley

BURLEY — More than 6,000 farmers share in $100 million in long-term farm real estate credit of the Federal Land Bank of Spokane.

This was reported by William K. Miller, regional manager for Idaho in an address before the annual meeting of Burley area stockholders Wednesday. He said as regional manager he works closely with 14 local land bank associations in Idaho.

Miller coordinated their efforts in three-year term. Beck has completed his 20th year as a member of the board of directors and holds a record of one of the longest terms on the Land Bank board.

Holdover directors are William Darrington, Declo president; Ralph Gorringer, Oakley, vice president; Mark Moorman, Milner, and Ray Zollinger, Burley.

Frank Beck, Burley, to another business meeting following the luncheon. He told members the association directors are attempting to bring market value and agricultural value closer together, and to maintain low interest rates.

"As directors we are here to serve you," he said, "and we hope you feel free to stop at the office to discuss loan matters at any time."

Aircraft ground school set at CSI

TWIN FALLS — The College of Southern Idaho is offering an aircraft instrument ground school course beginning March 1.

The course is designed for persons seeking to pass the FAA written exam or wishing to refresh their knowledge of instrument flight.

The class will meet each Wednesday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. for nine weeks beginning March 1. All classes will be at CSI and no actual flying is included.

Pre-requisite for the course is possession of a private pilot's license and at least 100 hours. Instructor will be Dale Van Orden.

TF window broken

TWIN FALLS — A window was broken Wednesday night at the law offices of May, May and Sudweeks.

James May told Twin Falls Police he and Jay Sudweeks were working in the office when they heard a noise. They later found a battery had been thrown against the building, breaking the window.

Firm agent named

BURLEY — Neal Hansen has been appointed to the factory as boiler refrigeration supervisor for the factory agent of Ore-Ida Foods, Inc., Burley.

The announcement was made by E. D. Nelson, factory manager.

Hansen joined Ore-Ida's Burley operation in 1960 and has held several positions since that time. Most recently he served as boiler refrigeration supervisor for the factory complex.

Previous to joining Ore-Ida, Hansen was employed by Shelley Processing Co., Burley. The Hansens are longtime residents of Burley.

Beet growers hear top aide

BY MIKE ROBERTSON
Times-News Writer
TWIN FALLS — Sugar prices for 1972 seem good, but nothing spectacular, can be expected, according to a Sugarbeet Grower Federation official.

Leland K. (Lee) Johnson told the Magic Valley Beet Growers Thursday that for the first time in several years the price of refined sugar is higher on the world market than in local markets. He said this is because of the price fluctuations on the speculative world market, making the market stable in the United States.

Johnson said the Nixon Phase II program now controls the price of sugar in the U.S. He said the grower federation is working to get sugar prices exempt under Phase II and to be put under the regulation of the Sugar Act passed last year.

Johnson also discussed contracts in different beet growing areas, including various situations growers have been facing with sugar factories throughout the U.S.

Leon Pickett, Magic Valley growers president said many growers seem to be disappointed with seed available to them in the area and the yields they have been getting.

He said there has been little yield increase in the past 20 years. He said seed improvements failed to help yields as they hoped.

A representative of Betased Co., Minneapolis, Minn., Duane Mullins, discussed sugar beet seeds his company will be offering in the Magic Valley area in 1972 in limited supply.

Beet growers have reason to be concerned about sugar variations according to Steve Lund, Appalachian Sugar Co.

fieldman. He said last year the sugar in beets in his district had a variation of 12 to 18 per cent.

He said on a 20-ton per acre crop, this variance means $150 per acre to the grower.

Lund said no real reasons have been found for the variations. He said, however, those who use a great amount of manure seem to have lower sugars. He said the greater amount of nitrogen left unused in the beet at harvest reduced the sugar's content.

"Climate is the biggest single factor in sugar content," he said. He said if it rains right before harvest the sugars are drastically reduced.

Bob Day, manager, Appalachian Sugar Co., Twin Falls, discussed the two situation when beets are harvested and piled by the sugar company. Several growers expressed concern that the tare at Curry dump was consistently higher on beets from the same field than at any other dump.

Day said next year at harvest, they will try to remedy the situation. He said last year the tare average was 6.4 at all stations going to the Twin Falls factory.

In other business, Leon Pickett was re-elected president, Howard Parish vice president, and Carl Boyd, secretary.

$10 million ski area slated near Ketchum

KETCHUM — Construction will begin this summer on a new $10 million ski area 13 miles north of Ketchum.

Called Big Wood Mountain, the two phase project is part of a Sprenger Land Investment, Inc., Ketchum development. It also includes plans for summer operation as a tourist area and continued development of other portions of the mountain.

Ralph Thomas, company vice president, said the initial phase is expected to be completed and the ski area opened by December, 1972.

The 9,700 foot Big Wood Mountain is located near the Russian John Ranger Station, west of U.S. Highway 93. It has a vertical drop of 2,850 feet, Thomas said. This year, lift lines and ski runs will be cut, lift loading areas will be cleared and access roads will be built, he said.

Thomas said before the area is put into operation in 1973, a double chair lift built in two sections will be completed to Elk Flat, about two thirds of the way up the mountain. A lodge will be built at that point and another lodge will be built at the base of the mountain, he said.

Other facilities, which will be constructed before the opening, include a beginner's hill, runs including three major routes from different sides of Elk Flat and parking for 500 cars.

In a second stage, a third lift will be installed to the top of the mountain, the Elk Flat Lodge will be enlarged and 500 more parking spaces will be added.

Robert Hoag, recreational staff officer, Sawtooth National Forest, said the use permit for the area was awarded to the Sprenger Co. two years ago. He said the company indicated that the first two winters would be utilized for study of snow and weather conditions for a basis of lift location.

Crowded hall

THIRD AND fourth graders at Lincoln grade school in Jerome hold physical education classes in the hallway of the basement during cold weather, for lack of other facilities. The structure, now 62 years old, will be replaced if the school bond issue passes Tuesday.

Jerome development unit names Hymas chairman

JEROME — Forest Hymas was named chairman of a special committee Wednesday night at the Jerome County Rural Development Council meeting.

An orientation program on land use planning was conducted and a land use planning committee was formed, with Hymas as chairman.

Others on the committee include Charles L. Herisson, Jerry Cullen, LeRoy Craig, Ralph Peters, Roger Flata and Gordon Hagler, all Jerome; Robert Henry, Eden; George Glarborg, Keith Huettig, Marion McClain, and Don Andrews, all Hazelton; John Ottman, and Louise Rehwall, both Paul.

The committee will try to set guidelines for cooperative development of agricultural, industrial, recreational and residential uses.

Tim Mahan, chairman of the council, said "We are trying to look toward the future and have an area where we can all make a living and still enjoy living."

The group will submit its suggested guidelines to the zoning commission.

Mahan said there is a mass movement back to rural America. Last year President Nixon set up a committee to try to solve problems of overcrowded cities. A large-scale effort has been launched to make rural living more attractive.

Because of this effort more people moving to rural areas, he said. "We must set up some guidelines to keep the rural area from becoming the same

Restrictions

JEROME — Weight and speed restrictions have been placed on all roads in the Jerome Highway District.

District officials set a maximum speed of 30 miles an hour and closed all highways to vehicles with weights including load exceed 350 pounds per inch of tire on any wheel.

The restrictions are effective immediately, officials said.

Solons brief

RUPERT — Minidoka County's two legislators briefed the chamber of commerce by telephone Thursday on action to date in the current legislative session in Boise.

Sen. John Peavey, R-Rupert, and Rep. Steve Antone, R-Rupert, conferred on a conference call with Dr. Darrell Hatfield, who handled the questions from the chamber members at the Thursday luncheon.

The lawmakers told the chamber a bill to change the age of majority from 21 to 18

Drug case suspect appears

TWIN FALLS — The public defender was appointed Thursday to represent a twelfth suspect in a drug case which developed in Magic Valley last week with the arrest of 11 young men.

William Lawrence Edwards, 19, Twin Falls, was returned from California Wednesday by Twin Falls County sheriff's officers to face charges here of delivering a controlled substance.

He appeared Thursday before Judge Daniel Meehl. Bond was reduced from $5,000 to $2,000 and the arraignment continued until Edwards had time to consult with an attorney.

Edwards was in custody in California on drug charges, but was released to Idaho officers this week.

Hansen slates zoning group

HANSEN — The Hansen City Council is forming a city planning and zoning commission.

The councilmen voted Wednesday to contact eight people who will be asked to serve on the commission.

The appointees are Kenneth Daw, temporary chairman, Ted Vaux, Charles Lown, Jack Allen, Phil Ross, Leonard Ur, Harold Miller, Sr., and W. D. Wiseman.

In other business the councilmen voted to purchase a bronze memorial plaque in memory of Kenneth Mothershead, who had served as parks and recreation director for five years.

The councilmen agreed to increase the city marshal's salary $25 per month.

Wet problem

LINCOLN, N.E.B. (UPI) — Cracking hardwood floors, shocking carpets and drooping house plants are sure signs of a low relative humidity problem in a house, according to Mary Dale McGregor, extension housing specialist, University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

A comfortable relative humidity level, or a measurement of moisture in the air, usually is around 35 per cent for a room temperature of about 75 degrees F.

Jerome supports woman for post

JEROME — The Jerome County Republican Central Committee has unanimously endorsed Mrs. Clair Ricketts for the post of Jerome County Clerk.

Mrs. Ella McVey, the present county clerk, submitted her resignation earlier this week to the Jerome County Commissioners effective March 1.

Mrs. McVey stated personal reasons for her resignation.

John VanOrman, chairman of the Jerome County Commissioners, said the commissioners will meet Monday and are expected to act on Mrs. McVey's resignation and will then seek applicants for the clerk's position.

Mrs. Ricketts has worked nine years in the auditor's office. She has been senior deputy clerk for the past six years. If her name is accepted by the commissioners she will have to seek election this fall to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. McVey.

Mrs. Ricketts is a member of the Falls City Civic Club, former president of the American Field Service Chapter and active in United Presbyterian Church where she sings in the choir.

Water rates aired by Wendell council

WENDELL — About 40 persons attended a Wendell City Council meeting to discuss the different schedules, for irrigation water rates Thursday.

A committee appointed by Mayor Eugene Soares last year to study irrigation assessments recommended that the acreage assessment be raised to .88 per acre, a $2 increase, and that the rate for a lot be raised to $5.25, a 25 cent increase.

The committee is composed of "Myra" Kuper, George Lancaster and Denton Adams.

In determining rates, one block of 16 lots make one acre. At least a block of land must be owned to qualify for the acreage rate.

Residents owning several lots, but less than a block feel their rates are exorbitant. The acreage rate was established to encourage maintenance of areas in the city which would otherwise become overgrown with weeds.

The request for rate relief for those not qualifying for the acreage rate was left undecided because of the absence of one of the councilmen.

Doug Schrank, acting as spokesman for the McGinis Park Committee, requested that the city budget $70,000 for development of that park east of the city.

Mrs. Gwen Collett, city clerk, said that $35,000 would come from the Idaho State Park Board in matching funds. The remaining amount would be $35,000 less the value of donated materials and labor and the value of the land federally appraised at $7,500.

Schrank asked that Wayne Strickling be appointed to the parks board as service chairman to replace Ed Otten, who recently moved to Australia.

TF driver fined for leaving site

TWIN FALLS — A 23-year-old Twin Falls man arrested on charges of speeding and leaving the scene of an accident pleaded guilty Thursday in magistrate court.

Juan D. Reynoso was fined $100 and sentenced to 10 days in jail for leaving the scene, and was fined $30 on the speeding charge. He is confined in the Twin Falls County jail, following his arrest Wednesday night.

SHOSHONE — Lincoln County Commissioners will meet at 10 a.m. Monday to adopt the 1972 county budget.

The budget was tentatively set at $283,969 at the January meeting. It may be lowered at the Monday meeting, but cannot be raised.

This is higher than the approved budget for 1971, which was a little more than $267,000.

The current expense part of the budget is set at $184,789. Current expense expenditures in 1971 were $184,585.

The pest control section of the budget is set again at $700 and the memorial fund remains the same at $600. The 1972 indigent fund is $20,000, the same as last year, though $28,735 was spent.

The public health fund is $8,000 for 1972 and "the convalescent center operations will be $10,500, the same as was set in 1971."

The junior college fund is again $15,000 and weed control appropriations will remain at $45,000.

Jerome biology teacher lauded

JEROME — Warren VanCamp, biology teacher at Jerome High School, has received Idaho's Outstanding Biology Teacher Award for 1971-72.

The high school was informed of VanCamp's award Thursday in a letter from Terry Armstrong, Idaho OBTA director. A committee consisting of Dr. David Anderson, Dr. Edmund Tyntki, Jim Hoyt and Elder Taylor made the selection of eight outstanding biology teachers.

VanCamp will receive an American Optical Co. Series 800 microscope, and his name will be submitted for region eight honors.

VanCamp began teaching biology at Jerome High School in 1963. He has a B.S. in biology from the University of Idaho and a M.S. in biology from the University of California.

VanCamp came to Idaho from central California where he obtained his elementary and secondary education certification at Modesto, Calif. He was graduated from College of Idaho, Caldwell.

VanCamp is commissioner for the teacher's educational and professional standards board for the Idaho Education Association.

VanCamp organized a biology club for his students, which now has 20 members. He said his students are trying to raise money so he can take the biology club and his advanced biology class on a May field trip to the Oregon coast.

Predator policies eyed

TWIN FALLS — Stream protection law and predator control policy changes headed the topics of discussion at a state and federal resources interagency meeting Thursday.

According to Steve Murrell, area Idaho Fish and Game Department information and education officer, the discussion centered on possible changes in predator control and the status of the stream protection law on federal lands. He said the new law put the changes of a river bed under strict control of the water administration.

Murrell said Nixon's new policy banning poisoning predators on federal lands will throw present policies into a state of change. The different agencies discussed and had explained to them the extent of these new immediate changes by Nixon.

Steve Allred, Department of Water Administration, explained the status of the stream protection law on federal lands. He said the new law put the changes of a river bed under strict control of the water administration.

Any changes or modifications have to be approved by the Department of Water Administration, which in turn will issue permit and ruling on any changes.

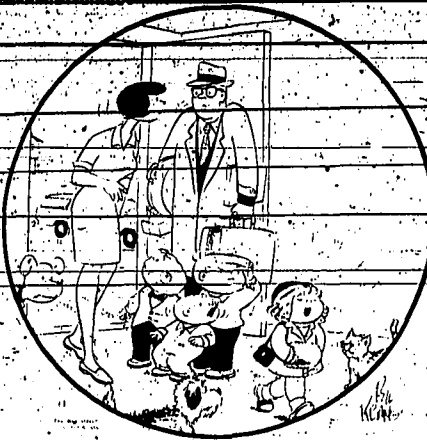

For example, Allred said, under the law a private citizen can not send a bulldozer into a river to alter the bed of a river.

Spiller to build up banks. Breaking the law's regulations can mean severe penalties, he said.

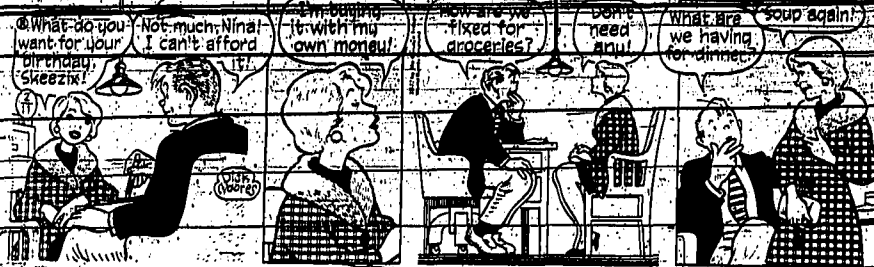

The effects of streambed changes on fish and their habitat was presented by Bob Bell, fish biologist, Idaho Fish and Game Department. He explained how channelized streams may be changed to improve fish habitat.

He also outlined the difference between instream bank habits and native trout habits in a given stream.

Other topics of discussion included beaver management, review of proposed legislation, range studies and plans for range management on state lands in south Idaho and agricultural planning on burned lands.

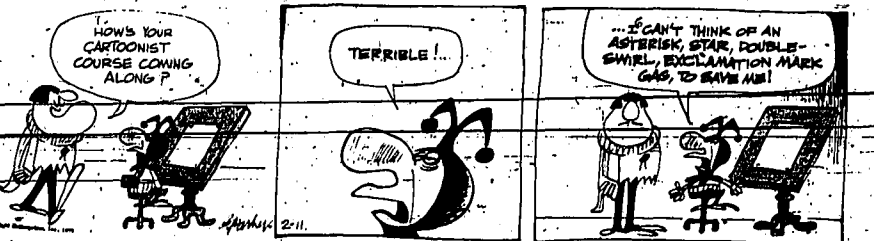

"Gracious me! You're all a sight for sore eyes. Land's sake, Jeffy, how you've grown while I've been at Grandma's! Doesn't my hair look SPIFFY? Goodness! I'm famished—for a cup of tea."

Bride Cooked Family Meal

"Be kind to your mother-in-law, and if necessary pay for her board at some good hotel."

Billings
Was the custom in old China for a pair of newlyweds three days after the honeymoon to move into the home of the groom's parents. There, the bride was called upon to cook and serve a meal for her mother-in-law. Just one, I think. That was known to be sufficient to test the young lady's knack, and grace, and endurance.

LAWSUITS
Remarkable what prompts some souls to file lawsuits. In Paris, an irritated mother filed suit against a teacher for telling her tot there was no Santa Claus. In Michigan, a young lady sued an oil company for discharging an odor which she said made her hair stand straight up. In New York, a merchant seaman sued his own boss for tracking him down in a Yugoslavian house of ill repute where he broke a bone or two in jumping out a window.

FIRST MEN to fly around the world nonstop executed the feat in 10 minutes. All right, that's cheating. Still, it's a fact that Richard E. Byrd and Floyd Bennett circled the North Pole by air May 9, 1926, crossing all the meridians of longitude.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1972

CARROLL RICHTER'S

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day and evening to follow the best in public life as expressed by the emancipator whose birthday is celebrated today. Be sure to think out how you can best use your creative capabilities so they can serve both humanity generally as well as yourself in particular. Rise above fear.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Ideal day to think over some new plan that will be good for both you and associates and to get it rolling satisfactorily. Sit down with powerful persons and talk over new ideas. Help the downtrodden today, too.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have every opportunity to add to present activities in a way that will bring more happiness into your life. Write to those out-of-town associates and find out what their ideas are. Stop feeling sorry for yourself.

GE-MINI (May 21 to June 21) You have an opportunity today to get much accumulated work done, also to start some new project that is worthwhile, so get busy early. Out to whatever is pleasurable with joyful one later in the day. Keep smiling.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Ideal day to sit down with partners and talk over the right course of action for the future. Anything of a civic nature can be handled well now. Make the most of the happy day.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You get the aid of others now for some new and workable plan you want to put in motion soon. You have excellent taste and can make your wardrobe truly charming, modern. Do something constructive about that artistic talent you have, also.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A day to forget dull routines and have a delightful time as you most desire. People who like you can be most helpful to you now. They understand your finest traits and appreciate them.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Ideal day to make improvements around your house, establish more harmony with kin and increase happiness there. Do all those things that will start an up-trend in your life. Don't forget to pay important bills.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get busy ironing out rough spots in your daily routines so they become more profitable and easier to manage. Arrive at the point of congeniality with all your friends. A happier life is possible for you in the future.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can improve your monetary affairs considerably through your dealings with big and important people today, or in p.m. Make improvements to property and other assets you have. Get out to see that good friend in p.m.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are now able to get personal life on a more satisfactory plane, so make an early start. Entertain or be entertained as best suits you. Plan a new wardrobe that brings out your finest features.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can now do those things that please you most, so make your plans early and follow through. The future can be infinitely better. Have those private meetings with others that are just your cup of tea.

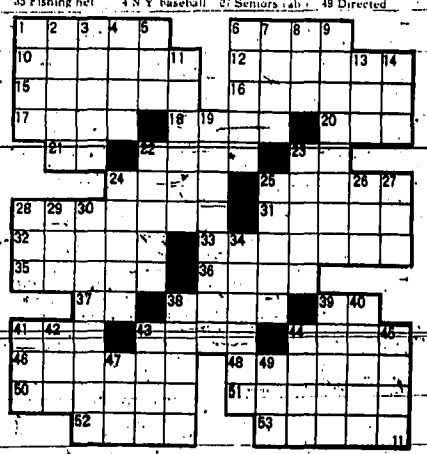

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Ideal day to gad about with persons you like who admire you. You will get right results. Some special aim can be attained if gone after with energy. Try to emulate Honest Abe.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those very talkative young people who will make a great deal of sense. Will be successful in life because the nature combines the idealistic and the practical. Others will find it difficult to fogl your youngster, who forever makes plans, then carries through in a positive fashion (live as fine) an education as you can afford and much success will follow.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

SNOW Conditions

Forest Service reports indicate snowmobiling is excellent in the Ketchum, Fairfield and South Hills areas and good in Hailey with snow cover becoming shallow there. Cross country skiing is also listed as excellent.

Magic Mountain lists only a trace of snow this week with total depths of 80 to 100 inches. The top has been widened but snow is recommended. Better leave Saturday and Sunday. Leafy wood at 9 a.m.

Soldier Mountain lists 56 inches of snow at the top of runs and 48 at the lodge with no new snow. Snow tires or chains are also required although the road is plowed.

Pomerelle reports snow depths ranging from seven feet up with no new snow and packed runs. The road has been widened and is good but snow tires and chains are required.

Sun Valley lists only 27 inches on the Valley floor but depths of 60 inches at the top of Baldy ski runs. There is no new snow, roads are dry with a few icy spots and all bowls and runs are open.

Rotun has 18 inches of packed base and roads are dry and clear. Skiing continues on Saturday and Sunday with night skiing Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m.

Twin Falls Fair weather skies are expected to join the more hardy and enthusiastic skiers on the slopes this week and.

All resorts report excellent ski conditions and weather conditions are clear and sunny.

Employees hide when solons gather

BOISE (UPI) — When the Idaho Legislature goes into session, state government goes into hiding.

Many state employees and elected officials keep a low profile during the legislative session that goes something like this: "Keep a low profile and don't rock the boat."

One department official put it this way: "Don't buy anything. Don't do any major projects and keep loose."

page questionnaire explaining our department's function and justify my job. We're given 34 hours to answer a 60-hour project."

Another official disagreed with the theory that state government comes to a grinding halt during legislative sessions.

"Maybe more gets done," he said. "One agency has its employees take coffee breaks at their desks during the session. Instead of the legislators gathering in the coffee room, a legislator wanders in, employees are instructed to bend over backwards to be helpful and look busy and impressed."

One elected state official summed it up after refusing to be quoted by name.

"There is no stronger body in the state of Idaho and when they are in session they are even stronger. They work on budgets and budgets mean money and the survival of departments and programs."

Another employee said controversial programs are stuffed in the lower right hand drawer when the session begins.

"Keep a low profile and don't rock the boat. Save the major changes until after they go home," he said.

One elected official at first agreed to be quoted by name, but after second thoughts, he decided it was not worth it.

"One had impression could start a chain reaction among the legislature which could lead to unforeseen consequences if they don't give me any money. I'll close up shop and go home."

Many department heads and employees said pressure is felt when the lawmakers are in the statehouse. And now the pressure would be felt yearly since the constitution was changed allowing annual sessions.

Another state official said the annual sessions were a waste of the taxpayers' money.

Everyone struggles

POLICE SEEM to be struggling more with themselves than demonstrators outside the Salfley Coke depot in Birmingham, England, where coal miners were picketing. The government has proclaimed a national state of emergency, designed to keep vital services functioning during the nationwide coal miners strike which is now in its fifth week. The sweeping emergency powers include authority to use troops and impose blackouts. (UPI)

Speech contest slated

BURLEY — Members of the Burley Housewifery club will compete for the selection of the best speaker in an area speech contest.

The contest will be held April 15 in Twin Falls at the council's club winner.

In a meeting with the Burley Housewifery club, awards will be given to Leo Henschel and Spencer Black. Evaluators were Mrs. Harlow Chene, Mrs. Cox, Larry Brash and Mrs. LePage Layton.

Mrs. Chene directed the table with a three way tie going to Mrs. Brash and Mrs. Chene. Mrs. T. Wayne Wood directed the judging. Mrs. W. J. Jensen, president of the Housewifery club conducted the business meeting.

Pay board asks report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pay board proposed Wednesday over objections by labor leaders, that all federal employees receive a 5.5 percent increase.

The board's report is expected to be reported to the president in advance.

Pay board officials pointed out that the increase would mean these so-called "cost of living" increases in existing contracts would automatically be limited to 7 percent.

The board has a basic 5.5 percent wage increase guideline but permits exceptions of up to 10 percent.

Under the board's rules, increases in contracts are limited to 7 percent prior to the beginning of the fiscal year.

14 are expected to go into effect unless vetoed by one of the parties.

Five are expected to be vetoed by the pay board.

Bridge winners

TWIN FALLS — Marie Valley Bridge Club met Wednesday afternoon at the Episcopal Church and Sarah Munger was declared Mrs. H. E. Burgess and Mrs. B. J. Peterson and Mrs. M. D. Fitzpatrick and Mrs. H. D. Tucker, third place winners.

East winners include Mrs. J. J. Russell, first; Mrs. V. L. Watson, second; and Mrs. W. E. Peay, third.

Hot cards

NEVADA — Because Gary Fountaine, 29, of Pahrump, Nev., is thrifty, he now owns a Dodge race car.

Last summer Van Dine found two five-cent postal cards in his desk and decided to use them before they were junked.

For a penny he entered two contests. He lost one but topped another 30,000 other entrants to win a car built for the automotive parts division of Borg-Warner Corp. to show that such a small item assembled from standard automotive parts.
